Poultry Plant is Established

Large Sum Used to Convert 35
Acres Into Modern Farm

MORGAN IS HEAD

In keeping with the growing interest in poultry production in the state Clemson is building a modern poultry plant. This was made possible through a gift of a large sum of money by a friend of the college. Thirty-five acres near the college gate on the Pendleton road have been set aside for the development of the plant. Provisions have been made particularly for the student's instruction and experimentation; however the entire plant will be a working demonstration in poultry production and management.

The plant will consist of eleven laying houses, eight houses for special breeding and variety pens and ten colony houses. This outlay will satisfactorily take care of two thousand layers and approximately thirty five hundred baby chicks. Special buildings have been provided for the incubators and for storage.

The laying houses are of the open-front shed-roof type with a two foot extension hood on front. Concrete floors are planned for all laying houses thereby making them ratproof and easy to clean. Extra light for the floors has been made possible by extra windows in the back of the houses under the dropping boards. These will give ventilation in the hot months.

Permanent fences will enclose the entire plant. To make possible a year round supply of green feed for the birds double yards have been planned for all houses throughout the entire plant.

In the management of the flock Modern equipment will be used the best known practices will be followed in disease prevention and elimination and in breeding and improvement. Trap nest will be used throughout in order to keep a record of each hen.

Prof. C. I. Morgan is head of the new Poultry Division and the superintendent of the plant is Mr. George A. Rogers of Indiana. Mr. Rogers is a poultryman of wide experience.

At present time there are 625 white Leghorns in one of the new laying houses. Each chicken has a metal tag on its leg and so with the trap nests an accurate record is kept of the layers. Flocks of Rhode Island Red, Barred Rocks and pens of all the common varieties will be added from time to time.

Some of the eggs from the flock at the plant have been sent to the college mess hall and with the development of the plant it is hoped that all the eggs required in the mess hall will be produced at the plant. In the construction of the plant attempt is being made to make it a modern practical outlay. The same policy will be followed throughout management. It is hoped that in every detail it may serve its greatest usefulness in developing the poultry industry of the state.

SECOND DELEGATION FROM LEGISLATURE TO BE HERE DEC. 9-10

On December 9 and 10, Thursday and Friday of this week, a second group of legislative members will visit Clemson. A dress parade and also chapel services will be held for the visitors on Friday. The class hours during the morning will each be reduced by ten minutes to provide for the necessary time.

Dr. Sikes has this year invited all members of the legislature to visit the college, dividing the body into four groups and having them come on different dates. The first group was here on November 23 and 24, and the third and fourth groups will come on December 14 and 15, and December 16 and 17 respectively.

The men in the second group who have accepted the invitation are E. F. Arnold and J. Howard Moore of Abbeville County; Boyce R. Gantt and John E. Stansfield of Aiken County; W. L. Riley of Bamberg County; Dr. A. B. Patterson of Barnwell County; G. L. B. Rivers of Charleston County; Ritchmond Stacy of Cherokee County; A. C. Westbrook and C. B. Abell of Chester County; L. G. Odom of Chesterfield County; H. H. Medlin of Clarendon County, and M. P. Hall of Lexington County.

"Bud" Eskew is '27 Grid Captain

Outstanding Back is Chosen by Team to Lead Squad
Next Year

"Bud" Eskew, the outstanding backfield man of the Tiger eleven this year, has been chosen by his team-mates to lead the Tigers next year. The race was very close, Eskew being pushed by Walt Martin, another consistent player.

The football men could not have chosen a man that is more capable of the honor than is Bud. Eskew's influence has been outstanding this year. With his knowledge of football and his uncanny tact of leadership, he should prove to be one of the most successful captains that has ever directed the destinies of a Clemson team.

"Bud" is an outstanding player in other sports too. He made his blocks last year in football, basketball and baseball. "Bud" besides being an all-around athlete, is one of the most popular men in the college and ranks very high in his classwork. Here's luck to you and your Tigers of '28, "Bud".

SABRE CLUB ADMITS

CAPT. YOUNGBLOOD

After spending Thursday parading around the campus attired like a colonial general, and going thru certain ridiculous formalities upon meeting members of the Sabre Club, "Scrap" Youngblood, manfully disdaining the many taunts and jeers of the crowds he encountered on every hand, proceeded fearlessly to the final chapter in his initiation into the aforesaid club. Youngblood is the fourth cadet to be taken into this honorary military society at Clemson, thus bringing the enrollment of the club up to nine members.

A business meeting followed the initiation at which several plans

DEAN MILLER, AMERICAN INST. BANKING, SPEAKS ON ECONOMICS

Tells How Specialization Is Harmful to Executive Ability

At the chapel hour yesterday, the Corps had the privilege of hearing one of the best speakers and one of the best speeches that it has heard this year. Dean Stephen I. Miller of the American Institute of Banking was the speaker and his speech was on economics. Prefacing his speech, Dean Miller gave a brief description of the Institute of Banking and its work. The Institute is fostered by American Bankers to educate employees of the banks. The Institute has an enrollment of 35,000 students and conducts classes in Commercial Law Bookkeeping, Economics, Public Speaking, Banking, and all allied subjects.

Dean Miller emphasized the importance of economics in the business world. Formerly the study of economics was laughed at by business men, he said, but with the overloading of the market with one particular commodity and the consequent losses have forced business men to the study of supply and demand. A very vivid illustration of this in the South was the cotton situation, he declared.

Some of the colleges are training men too much in one direction. "You can't make an executive out of an over-specialized man," he said. The Four Horsemen of Success, Dean Miller stated, are Ability, Loyalty or Cooperation, Personality and Vision. He described the first three as riding hand in hand, but the Fourth Horseman, Vision, rode far to the front. The students thoroughly enjoyed Dean Miller's talk, and it is hoped that the authorities will have other speakers as interesting and instructive as he.

W. H. COOPER SPEAKS TO CADETS IN CHAPEL ON ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Native South Carolinian Speaks
Highly of Great Man

Mr. W. H. Cooper, born and reared in Marion County, South Carolina, now President of the Continental Trust Company of Washington, D. C., was the chapel speaker here last Thursday. His subject was "Abraham Lincoln," and he gave the cadets some very interesting facts about Lincoln's political life; facts that the student does not often get from his study of United States History.

The data for this talk was taken from the official records that are kept on file in Washington and these records show Lincoln's greatness as it should be shown, for the great deeds accomplished by him are recorded there just as they were.

In this talk Mr. Cooper brought out the facts that Lincoln was a true friend of the South as well as of the Union. He was a friend of the South for he urged Congress to vote bonds to pay the States for slaves rather than force their freedom by war; he was a friend of the Union for he was the preserver of it. He was a friend of all sections of the country, and he accomplished things that only a great statesman, a patriotic citizen, and a loyal American could have accomplished. Mr. Cooper voiced the opinion which met with much approval.

The talk was interesting and entertaining throughout, and it is hoped that the cadets will have the pleasure of having Mr. Cooper with them again before the end of this school year.

SOPHS TO GIVE CHRISTMAS HOP

First Christmas Dance to Be Staged Friday Night
Dec. 17

The Sophomore Dancing Club will give its formal Christmas Hop, in the gymnasium, Friday evening, December 17. This dance promises to be the pinnacle of all that one could desire as a prelude to a big send-off for the Christmas holidays. The largest crowd of Cadets and lovely ladies will be present; the genuine Tiger spirit of Yuletide joy will prevail, the most entrancing dance music will beguile the hours into minutes for the joyous throng of merrymakers; the festive colors of Christmas will dress the old gymnasium into a place beyond recognition to make the dance one long to be talked of and never to be forgotten.

The Tigers' own orchestra, the enviable Jungaleers, will reign supreme at the instruments. Those who attended the Barn Dance know what a fine brand of music these lads can furnish, and while there is nothing startling, exceptional, or very brilliant about the orchestra, their rendition is all that one could desire. These boys are considered the best that have

BRYAN REPRESENTS CLEMSON AT THE UNIV. OF MISSOURI DEDICATION OF MEMORIAL TOWER

At the recent dedication of the Memorial Tower and Stadium to the men of the University of Missouri men who died in the world war, W. W. Bryan, member of the class of '26 and former editor of The Tiger was the representative of Clemson College. Clemson was asked to send a representative to the ceremonies, and since Bryan is a student at Missouri, Dr. Sikes asked him to represent the college, which the former Clemson student kindly consented to do.

Mr. Bryan reports that the ceremonies, which included a procession through Memorial Way to the Memorial Tower, the Governors Salute of nineteen guns, striking of the University bell once for each name on the Honor Roll, addresses from several distinguished men, Taps, the Presentation, and the Acceptance, were very impressive. The University of Missouri also celebrated Homecoming that day with a football game with the University of Kansas.

The University of Missouri has an Honor Roll of dead numbering one hundred and seventeen. The names of these men are cut in the stone of the Tower, and were cut by two Germans one of whom fought in the German army during the war. These two men are Carl Kestermun and Charles Michael. Kestermun, the younger man who fought for Germany says.

"Yes, I fought for Germany in the war but I do not believe that I fought against these boys whose names I am cutting."

Mr. Bryan who represented Clemson College at the dedication ceremonies has the honor of being president of his class at Missouri.

Now that Clemson has a new library building with a comfortable reading room, more students should improve themselves by reading. Too few of us are acquainted with the works of standard authors and fewer still are interested in them. The taste in books seems to run toward "The Plastic Age", "After All" "The Passionate Widow" and such shallow reading as you will find in these books. Instead of these why not read some of the works of Dickens or Thackeray or Scott or any good author.

A student may obtain much information about his course by reading the technical journals in the reading room; all the latest inventions and discoveries are discussed in these papers and a student may keep up with the leaders in his industry by referring to these papers.

DR. H. B. SCHAEFFER TO DELIVER SERMON AT COMMENCEMENT

Dr. H. B. Schaeffer of Hickory North Carolina, has been secured to preach the baccalaureate sermon on June 5, 1927. Dr. Schaeffer, originally of Charleston, is a Lutheran Minister of recognized ability. He is now serving as President of Lenoir Rhyne College, to which office he has recently been appointed.

Each year a minister from a different denomination is invited to preach the commencement sermon, and this year falls to the Lutheran denomination. The preachers are chosen by a committee composed of members of the faculty.

been here for some time, and have improved greatly in recent practices.

This dance is to be by cards which are beautifully embossed with the Tiger insignia and colors. Santa Clause will dispense favors to the crowd and will see that no one is slighted. Those who have the decorations in charge are Billy Redfern, vice-president, Dukes Wright, J. B. Valley, Ikey Albright, Jay Adams, and "Ab" Verdery.

All Cadets who intend to go to this Hop should place the names of their fair damsels on the ever increasing list in B-10, so that their placement may be facilitated as soon as possible. Those on the Reception Committee are: Hamp Talley, president, Clint Batson, Moose Blankenship, Earle Mayes, and Ed. Jordon.

PROF. CLARK ATTENDS HIGHWAY BOARD

Professor E. L. Clarke has just returned from Washington where he attended the sixth annual meeting of The Highway Research Board. This board composed of representatives of those organizations interested in the development of the highways of the country met, in Washington, December 3 and 4.

The purpose of this board is to improve highways in the most economical manner. For example Professor Clarke is on the Committee on Economic Theory of Highway Improvement; his

CLASS OF '96 HOLDS REUNION HERE DEC. 16

The class of 1896, the first class which graduated from Clemson, will hold its Thirtieth Anniversary reunion at Clemson on December 16th and 17th.

In the first few years of the existence of the college, the college term continued through the summer months and closed in December. Thus the class of '96 was graduated on December 16th.

The reunion is being handled by the Alumni Association and the members of the original class who live on the campus, Prof. R. E. Lee, Prof. W. W. Klugh, Mr. B. F. Robertson, Prof. J. E. Hunter, Prof. C. C. Newman, and Mr. I. L. Keller.

Arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the "first Tigers" on the campus. A program will be scheduled for the night of the 17th in chapel to which the cadet corps and people of the campus will be invited. Pictures of the early history of the college will be shown, and other features of general interest will be given.

A number of the members of the class have expressed their intention to return for the celebration, and the committee looks for a large attendance.

GLEE CLUB PERFORMS IN LIBERTY; TO GO TO STATE CONTEST

Presenting a mediocre performance to a disappointingly small audience, at Liberty last Friday evening, the Clemson College Glee Club presented its programme for the second time this year.

The Club made its initial performance last Thursday in Pickens. There the performance was well received, attended and presented. The second performance, which was given at Liberty last Friday night was very disappointing from beginning to end.

This week-end-Thursday, Friday, and Saturday the club will go to Columbia to compete in the State Glee Club contest.

A sermon in stones

CECIL RHODES, the diamond king, had a real idea which he passed on to diamonds in the rough.

"Be well-rounded men, broad in your sympathies," he said, and he made this the basis for selection of Rhodes scholars.

Surely there's a lesson for every man—graduates alike in arts, in pure science or in applied science—to balance the student in him with the athlete, the individualist with the man of sociability, the specialist with the "citizen of the world."

For Rhodes' idea was no theory. It is shared by hard-headed business men today.

One winter's day a very bow-legged tramp called at a home in Ontario and stood to warm himself by the kitchen stove. A little boy in the home surveyed him carefully for some minutes, then finally approaching him, he said: "Say, mister, you better stand back; you're warping!"

Beezle—I went home quite a bit under the weather last night and my wife didn't suspect a thing. Bub—Couldn't she smell your breath?

Beezle—That's just it. I ran the last block home and when I got to her I was all out of breath.

Builder—I've just caught that man Brown hanging about smoking during working hours, so I gave him his four days' wages and told him to clear out.

Foreman—Good 'eavens, gov'nor! The chap was only looking for a job.

Judge—You claim the man nearly strangled you and he declares he was on the other side of the street at the time. How do you explain that?

Plaintiff—He threw an egg at me while I was singing through a megaphone.

"Get away from here, or I'll call my husband!" threatened the hard-faced woman who had just refused the tramp some food.

"Oh, no, you won't," replied the tramp, "because he ain't home."

"How do you know?" asked the woman.

"Because," answered the man, as he sidled toward the gate, "a man who marries a woman like you is only home at meal times."

Unlucky Motorist (having killed the lady's puppy)—"Madam, I will replace the animal."

Lady—"Sir, you flatter yourself."

"A yard of pork, please," said the smart man to the butcher. The butcher turned to his boy. "Give this gentleman three pigs feet," he said.

School Superintendent—Now, Rogers, what are you doing? Learning something?

Pupil—No, sir. I'm listening to you.

Boxing Teacher—Now, when I hit you like this—you are supposed to dodge.

In an out-of-the-way corner of a Boston graveyard stands a brown board showing the marks of age and neglect. It bears this inscription: "Sacred to the memory of Eben Harvey, who departed this life suddenly and unexpectedly by a cow kicking him on September 1853. Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

The young married couple had been quarrelling, and the wife had retreated into her room, slamming the door behind her and maintaining an audible snuffle. After a quarter of an hour she summoned the maid and inquired:—

Is my husband still in his room? Yes, ma'am. Then sit here and cry for a few minutes—I'm so tired I must take a little rest.

I can't art And I can't poet; But I love you, And you should know it!

George—"My razor doesn't cut at all."

George—"Why, George, you don't mean to tell me that your beard is tougher than the oilcloth I cut with it this morning?"

"The next on the programme will be music. Miss Tabitha Tompkins will sing 'Put me in my little bed,' accompanied by the minister."

Few boys will change at college as long as the laundries continue to keep up their prices.

Cop—"Hey, your headlights are out."

Motorist—"I put some wood alcohol in the radiator and the damned things went blind."

He—"You should see the figure I got on my last prelim."

She—"What was it?"

He—"36."

She—"Why, that's a perfect bust."

About one hand of strip poker would send most co-eds home in a barrel.

She—"I just washed my hair and it won't behave."

—"That's why I can't dance tonight. I just washed my feet."

She—"And you are usually such a good dancer."

Walt. What becomes of your lap when you stand up? Bud. It retires to the rear and bobs up under an assumed name.

Then you haven't a cent to your name and your cigarettes have given out you may consider yourself unfortunate, but just think of the fellow who hasn't any money and needs a bottle of Listerine to cure his "Hallie."

"Postpone me at the next street," said the extremely up-to-date college professor to the street car conductor.

TOWN GIRLS' CLUB OF A. C. PRESENTS PLAY "GOOD TIMES"

Minstrellette Sponsored By Taps
Staff Rated High in Barracks

"Good Times," a minstrellette, was presented for the approval of the Tigers last Friday night by the Town Girl's Club of Anderson College. Practically all the cadets, and a large number of residents on the campus witnessed the performance, which was sponsored by Taps Staff. About eighty charming young ladies took part in this minstrellette, and the humorous presentation was enjoyed by every member of the audience, which practically filled the college auditorium.

Miss Coy Meeks and Miss Leita Cathcart were the outstanding stars. They are both exceptionally good actresses, and their performance Friday night won for them the praise of the entire corps. Other shining lights of this Club are the following members: Misses Elizabeth Ledbetter, Willie Gentry, Mary White, Hazel Meeks, Elise Poole and Edith King.

The whole program was arranged in a very attractive manner, and it was well acted throughout. The cadets were very much impressed with the minstrellette, and in the discussion which they held in barracks that night after it was over, they all agreed that every one of the girls were exceptionally good actresses, and that the entertainment was very enjoyable.

CAPT. A. W. PENROSE INSTALLS AMERICAN LEGION OFFICERS

The Local Post of the American Legion held an open meeting on December 1st at the Y. M. C. A., the occasion being the installation of the officers of the Post for the year 1927.

Captain A. W. Penrose, a member of an American Legion Post in Pennsylvania, conducted the ceremony in a splendid and impressive manner.

The membership of this Post extends to nearby towns where there are no Posts, giving those ex-service men an opportunity to keep in touch with the Legion and its affairs. There were three members from Pendleton and two from Walhalla present at the meeting. These members report that others in their locality are anxious to join and an increase in membership is expected to result.

The Post, by exceeding its 1926 membership before November 30th, 1926, is entitled to a "Certification for distinguished service" from the National Headquarters. Any Post which exceeds its 1926 membership before December 31st, will be entitled to a "Citation for meritorious service."

The new officers have promised to use their efforts to keep the Post and its functions moving in the same high plane which has been characteristic in the past and that they will be successful in witnessing the enthusiasm and attendance of the last meeting.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Furman Deputation Team Conducts Vesper Service

The members of the team are Messrs. Funderburk, Alvarez, Blount and Lawton. Funderburk is president of the Y. M. C. A. Alvarez is a native of South America who is attending Furman University, and Blount is one of Furman's football players.

The service was conducted according to an agreement among the colleges of the state to exchange services from time to time during the year.

Mr. Alvarez said, "There are many people in the United States who need the message of God, but there is not one who cannot find a missionary within fifty miles. This is not so in South America, for there are many who cannot find a missionary within a thousand miles."

Mr. Alvarez never saw a Bible until he was nearly grown. He never knew Jesus Christ as a personal savior. He never knew the meaning of being a Christian. The personal testimony of this student from a far off land was enough to make many minds start taking inventories of themselves.

No team can hope to do its best when the members give away to the vices of the world. The so-called stars cannot play their best in any athletic game where they leave God out. They may think that they will, but they will learn differently before many games have passed.

The description of the way the Furman players prepare for a game, as told by Mr. Blount, touched the hearts of many who heard him.

Students are now running to get seats at Vesper Service the same as to see a free comedy in the week. This has never been seen at Clemson before.

The services Sunday night were record breakers for attendance. All seats were full, the aisles were full, and standing room at the back was at a premium.

Jesus Christ is our hope for salvation. Do we accept him, or reject him?

Getting out this paper is not a picnic.

If we print jokes, folks say we are silly.

If we don't they say we are too serious.

If we publish original matter, they say we lack variety.

If we publish things from other papers, we are too lazy to write.

If we stay on the job, we ought to be out rustling news.

If we are rustling news, we're not attending to business in our own department.

If we don't print contributions, we don't show proper appreciation.

If we do print them then the paper is filled with junk.

Like as not some fellow will say we swiped this from an exchange.

So we did.

DRAMATICS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AND MAKES PLANS

The Dramatics Club held its first meeting last week and elected the following officers: S. L. Gillespie President, R. C. Dill Vice President, and Willie Nickles Secretary.

There are about 40 members on the club roll and many more are to be added as time passes. With the abundance of good men and under the directorship of Prof. Freyer the club hopes to present at Clemson and the near by towns a number of the latest plays. Competition will be close and it will take good actors to be able to be in the casts of the plays to be given soon.

Several plays were discussed and it was decided to give the first performance at Clemson about January 15.

The Dramatic Club is Clemson's latest organization and is very fortunate to have Professor Freyer as Director. Prof. Freyer has had several years experience in this line and is taking lots of his time trying to make the club a success here.

LT. BALCAR

Last Friday Lieutenant Balcar received orders sending him to the government hospital at Fort McPherson at Atlanta, Georgia where he will undergo treatment for appendicitis.

Captain Penrose and several cadets plan to visit him next week end.

Among those present are of course the "popular girls," commonly called the "tonsil group." Everybody takes them out.

Prince Albert is the overwhelming campus-favorite of every type and every pipe. (Yes, the pipes do have a voice in the matter. They can act in a docile, friendly manner or they can be mean. It depends on what you feed them.)

Open a tidy red tin of good old P. A. That first fragrant whiff will tell you why gentlemen prefer Prince Albert. Tuck a load into the bowl of your pipe and light up. Fragrance and taste alone are enough to win you.

But P. A. doesn't stop there. It is cool-smoking. It is mild as Maytime, yet it has plenty of body. It is kind to your tongue and throat. You can hit it up all you like and it never hits back. Try a tin of P. A. You'll certainly prefer it after that.

CADETS ARE URGED TO BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

All cadets are requested and urged to buy the Christmas seals which have been placed on sale at all the local stores and the Post Office.

The proceeds from these seals are used in the following manner: To furnish money to fight tuberculosis.

To secure nurses for the afflicted.

To educate the public school children so that they may protect themselves against the plague.

To establish headquarters where one may have free physical examination.

The Christmas Seal is now 19 years old. In the first year, 1907, only $3,000 was raised. This year the goal is $5,000,000. Every cadet should buy at least five of these seals.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

COLUMBIAN HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

On last Tuesday evening the Columbian Literary Society held one of the most interesting meetings of the year. The attendance at this meeting was much better than any of the previous meetings.

Mr. Farmer entertained the society for several minutes with a demonstration of a small boy saying his first speech. A very good declamation was given by Mr. Gault. Mr. Dobson then demonstrated a number of rope tricks. The humorist of the evening was Mr. Woodward. He kept the society in an uproar of laughter for many minutes with his unusually good collection of jokes.

The Columbian Literary Society meets every Tuesday night. Everyone is urged to be present at all the meetings.

PALMETTO MEETING

The Palmetto Literary Society held its regular meeting Thursday night, Dec. 2. Since each member of the program had his part well prepared, a splendid program was carried out. An interesting topic, Resolved: That the United States Should Cancel the Foreign War Debt, was debated. S. R. Alexander and F. J. Eison were upholders of the affirmative, and J. L. Fogle and J. P. Cannon of the negative. Each side presented good arguments, but the arguments of the negative had more influence in the decision of victors. The orator, T. B. Skinner, had as his topic, "Attitudes." He enumerated several attitudes of college students that are responsible for success or failure. G. F. Klugh entertained the society with an interesting declamation. "Gunga Din," by Kipling. J. A. Keith rendered a selection, "The Winners," also by Kipling. The essayist, E. B. Early, furnished the society some good thought on "Thoroughbreds."

C. J. Humphrey and W. C. Dargan were admitted to membership in the society. The Palmetto invites visitors to attend her programs. Come out next Thursday night.

CALHOUN SOCIETY

The Calhoun Literary Society held its regular meeting last Monday night. The time has been changed from Wednesday night because of the meetings of many other societies at that time.

A very interesting program was carried out before an exceedingly small group of members. An oration, "The Indisposition of Happiness," delivered by Reaves, was the feature of the program. The negative side won in a debate, the query being, Resolved: That the Girls of Today Are More Modest than the Girls of 1860.

The attendance was so small that the president made suggestions which were adopted by the society as measures to increase the number at the meetings.

It was decided to require each absentee to pay a fine of twenty-five cents to the secretary within ten days after his absence unless he had an acceptable excuse. This excuse must be sent up to the society on the night of the absence and the society will decide whether or not the excuse is acceptable. Any member who is absent three times in succession without an excuse is automatically dropped from the roll.

The measures were adopted with the hopes that they would cause the members to attend and take an active part in the society.

Everybody is urged to be present next Monday night after long roll. All new members are welcomed.

A smoking pleasure that never fails

HERE is the outstanding fact of the entire cigarette industry: Camels never tire the taste, no matter how liberally you smoke them; never leave a cigarette after-taste.

Only the choicest tobaccos that nature produces, only the finest blending ever given a cigarette could produce a smoke that never fails to please, that always brings the utmost in smoking enjoyment. Regardless of how often you want the comfort of a smoke, of how steadily you light one after another,

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Camels will never fail you, never give you any but the finest thrill of smoking pleasure.

That is why Camel sales, by far the largest in the world, keep overwhelmingly in the lead. Increasing millions are discovering the incomparable Camel quality—smoothness and mellowness.

If you want the one and only cigarette that's good to live with strenuously from morn to midnight—the cigarette that never tires the taste—Have a Camel!

SPORTS CIVILS AND SHOCKERS CLASH TOMORROW SPORTS

Nothing can keep the thoughts of the students from the Christmas holidays which are drawing near. Football held their attention until Thanksgiving and naturally after that time all eyes turned to the calendar to see how long before Santa Claus would make his appearance. Two weeks from tonight the entire corps will disband to all sections to see homefolks, sweethearts, and old friends; and to take part in all of the glowing festivities that always accompany Christmas.

Wise judgment was shown in the selection of the captain of the next year's football team when the team elected "Bud" Eskew to this honorable position. He is a man well worthy of the place and he can be depended upon to pilot his men through, however rough the sailing may be. Bud, was the outstanding star of the year on the Tiger team this past season and fans will recall how he entered the Citadel game late and by brilliant passing put over a touchdown, although handicapped by a lame back.

Much interest is being shown in intramural sports this year. There is company and section football that promises to be mighty interesting. Much enjoyment is expected from the game between the electrical seniors and the civil seniors next Friday afternoon.

Coach "Tink" Gillam has a crew of husky, willing lads down at the big gym who don't mind hard work when there is any sport to be had. This bunch of Tiger lads led by their inspiring coach are fast rounding themselves into basketball players for the stiff schedule which begins after the holidays. They are running, passing, sidestepping, pivoting, eluding imaginary opponents, and shooting at the basket. Great things are expected from the team this year because practically all of the men on the team are back again. They know the system that the coach taught them last year, and all that is necessary for a good team is a little brushing up and a plenty of endurance.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

Dear children, the topic this week is going to be a little different from my past ones. I am going to tell of how little Ohimoff Tonitesky, the master of the difficult Borina, put Russia on the musical map of the world. The bare facts are announced to the world, through the kindness of little Ohimoff, of how he overcame serious difficulties in making something of himself.

It was in the cold winter of 1889 that this lad first saw the light of day. Little 'Off's, for that was his nickname, parents were musically inclined. His father, Ivanitch Allthetmesky, was an adept artist on the Consterpino and played before all of the crown heads and boneheads of Europe before he had reached the tender age of six. Imagine dear children at an age when most of you are just starting school this prodigy of Siberia was earning a name and living.

Little did Ohimoff think when he was born (naturally) that he would follow in the footsteps of his dear father. But he did. In 1892 the Czar hearing of this baby prodigy asked that he be given the privilege of hearing the lad perform in the Palace. Thru the kindness of Ohimoff's father the Czar's request was granted. When the great day came little Ohimoff was bedecked in his best attirement, for that is what they wore in those days, knickers were unknown. Little Ohimoff made a hit with the Czarina, but after he had played three notes on his Borina the Czar ordered little Ohimoff to be sent to Siberia in exile for the welfare of his countrymen and Russian music. The Czar felt that this class of music was a disgrace to the Russian name.

Little Ohimoff, was sent to Siberia where he spent six more years. His music falling into a state of degradation all of the time. Fate was to smile on this lad for one day he escaped and safely made his way to the United States. After a little publicity, little Ohimoff was given a contract by the Cosmopolitan Opera Co, for three engagements. In these performances he made a vast hit with the American public and was immediately taken into the Four Hundred. After a prolonged stay in America little Ohimoff realized the small sum of $3,000,000.00 for his unintelligible efforts on the Borina. He at once obtained passage back to his native country and upon arrival in Russia he was acclaimed the greatest of Russian music masters and was made a Duke by the self same Czar that had exiled him for his selfsame disgraceful playing on the Borina. Barnum was right.

MAJOR GRID CLASH TAKES PLACE TOMORROW AT 4:15

Electrical Shockers and Brutal Civils Meet—Teams Undeclared

Football fans on the campus will have the privilege of witnessing one of the most brilliant grid struggles in the history of the great fall sport, when the "Senior Shockers" clash with the "uncivilized Civils" here next Thursday. Both elevens boast of being undefeated so far this season.

Grid followers will not only have the privilege of witnessing a colorful clash, but will have an opportunity of seeing two of the most outstanding players of the campus in action. "Nutsy" Marshall, an all around athlete and a man of great military prestige and "Ikey" Keyserling, the notoriously known shadow boxer, both of whom will appear on the shockers' lineup.

A large crowd is expected to witness this battle of the century, which starts promptly at 4:15 Thursday. A sum of ten kawsks will be given the cadet that prognosticates the score . . . try and get it.

BATTALION CHAMPS IN VOLLEY BALL BE DECIDED THIS WEEK

The company volley ball tournament which has created so much interest during the past week has uncovered many extraordinary volley ball players as well as some marked team work. The battalion championship games will be played this week. The following teams have survived the first elimination test and will play as scheduled: B vs C, Wednesday: G vs F, Thursday: I vs M.—Friday.

Next week the final games will be held to decide the regimental championship. Im possible the regimental champs will hook up with the faculty team captained by Prof. Pete Wilson in a post seasoned struggle that will no doubt rival the renowned Tournament of Roses in color.

The results of the first leg of the tournament are as follows: B defeated A 4 to 3, D defeated C 4 to 0, F defeated E 4 to 2, G defeated H 4 to 3, I defeated K 4 to 1, M defeated L 4 to 1.

BASKETEERS HAVE RIGID SCHEDULE

The 1926-27 basketball schedule, although not complete, contains some of the best teams in the south. Most of the games will be played at home, that is the big games. The officials are undecided as to whether a trip will be made into North Carolina and Virginia or to invade Louisiana again.

The opening game with the Georgia "Bulldogs" is pending. If a date is arranged, the game will probably be played in Athens. The Wofford Terriers will appear here January 12. The second game of the local season will be with the Uni. of Tennessee's "Volunteers" on January 13. The "Gamecocks" will be the next to furnish the opposition for the Tigers on the 21. P. C. makes its initial appearance here Feb. 9. The Florida "Alligators" will bring a formidable team to the local court on Feb. 16. On the 23 the Tigers will tackle the "Demon Deacons" of Wake Forest here, and the Citadel "Bulldogs" will be taken on Feb. 25.

Two games with the Mercer "Bears," one of the best teams in the entire country, are tentatively scheduled the dates will be announced later. A game was scheduled with the Uni. of Georgia for January 11, but the "Bulldogs" want the date changed; so the game is pending.

The above schedule, which is incomplete, will afford the fans of the court in and near Clemson a chance to see some of the best teams in the south in action. The Tigers are due for a big season in the great indoor sport and should win a majority of their games by a large margin.

F Company Enjoys Feed At Newboys' Expense

Last Friday night the F Company "Rats" were hosts to the upperclassmen of that company.

The Newboys puzzled their parents very much when they informed them that in order not to receive so many Christmas gifts it was necessary for them to satisfy the Old boy's appetites. From all appearances the mothers of the Newboys did not want to see them lug a lot of Christmas presents home so they sent some of the best prepared boxes of eats that have ever been put on a table at a company banquet.

Several members of the Staff along with Lieutenant Johnson were invited to the repast. From all indications everyone present had a most enjoyable time.

A talk was given by "Red" Mitchell, the captain of the company. In his talk he expressed the real purpose of the supper. He stated that the occasion furnished a real "get-together" meeting which would better friendship among the members of the company.
